NAME_

My Kitty Cat

My kitty cat, she moves around, She crouches and creeps without a sound.

She stretches her body over the floor. She rubs herself against the door.

She eats her food and licks her fur. And then she starts to "purr" and "purr."

And, then without another "peep," She curls right up and goes to sleep.

"Meow, meow."

A couplet consists of two lines of rhymed verse, sometimes open and sometimes closed. In a closed couplet, the meaning must be complete by the second end-rhyme. In an open couplet, the meaning and imagery are extended beyond the 2-line couplet into more lines. In poems having closed couplets, there are two lines of verse that form a unit alone as a poem, especially two that rhyme and have the same meter. Ex: closed - aa/bb/cc; open ab/ab/cd/cd.
